Foreword

We stand on the threshold

... a new decade

... a new age

... a new spirit

This year opened new doors for students. Last year's Campus Revival became a weekly event packing graduate hall each Wednesday for varied, but always enthusiastic programs. Conference on Evangelism proclaimed a timely, vital theme: "Up with Youth!" Missions Emphasis Week set the stage as a "Time to Stand," followed closely by an evangelistic symposium on soul winning.

This spirit widened our present horizons. The Cincinnati Bible Seminary is a stationary structure, but its students and faculty have the driving spirit to go far beyond its boundaries. This year more than ever, students reached out, serving other churches and communities. Evangelistic groups to shopping centers and the University of Cincinnati, the "Movin' Generation" and other groups, as well as many individuals, stepped out to stand for Christ.

This spirit renewed the Seminary family with new hope and a greater faith, for it did not end with the school year. Summer found students actively in the Lord's work in groups such as the "Come Alive" singers, "Ohio Singers" in Japan, and individually in internships, camps, VBS's and other areas of service. Again, the boundaries of the gospel were extended. For through these open doors, students stepped up and out for God!

"Knock, and it shall be opened unto you."

His Life Touched Ours

DEDICATION

Life has a way of introducing us to many people. Some we know very well as we share many experiences with them. But our lives and others' may touch only briefly. The meaning of the contact is not always realized immediately.

Time has a way of revealing true values. First impressions are important, but their importance may change as the years pass. Through time-measured experiences we begin to understand a little bit of what eternity may mean.

The Class of 1970 desires to inspire a spirit for the seventies that may have eternal consequences. We believe not in a generation gap, for we trace our desire back into the spirit of our forebearers. Benjamin Dwight Phillips, Sr., was one of these, and to his memory we dedicate the 1970 Nautilus.

Though our lives touched only briefly, we found he loved us since he possessed such a deep concern for church-related training institutions. He has loved us and shared financially with us. We do not want to betray his trust or his love.

We want to promote the same spirit of love for the Lord and the Church of Christ and for the Restoration principles that he promulgated. For him the Word of God remained precious and prayer was vital. May such be the spirit of the seventies!

Though our lives have not been so entwined with his as his beloved wife Mildred or his dear family, we thank God that He permitted our lives to touch B.D.'s as a source of inspiration.

FAITHFULLY,

THEY LEAD US

Walking day by day with these men of God, we've grown to appreciate the labors of our faculty and administration. They have taught, directed, and guided this year as every year, not only as leaders but also as examples. So, we are grateful for it is only with their help that we can strive for our common purpose, academic perfection, as we lay the foundation for Christian service.

President Completes 22 Years

What does it take for a man to be president of The Cincinnati Bible Seminary? What does it take from a man? What does the school give to him?

President Woodrow W. Perry has occupied this important position in the life of the Seminary for the past twenty-two years.

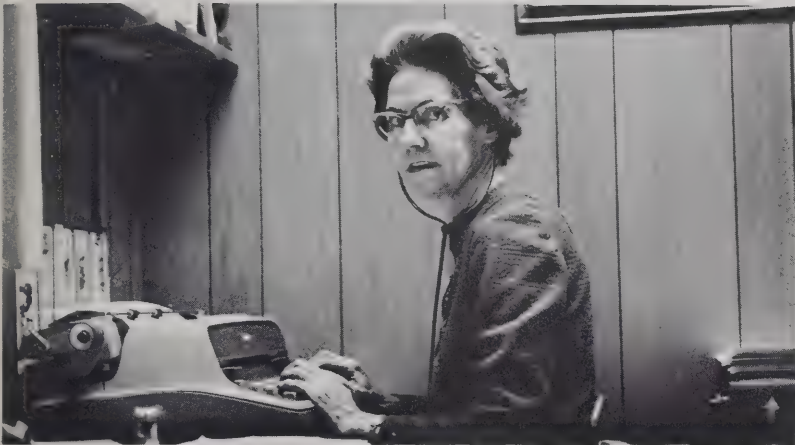

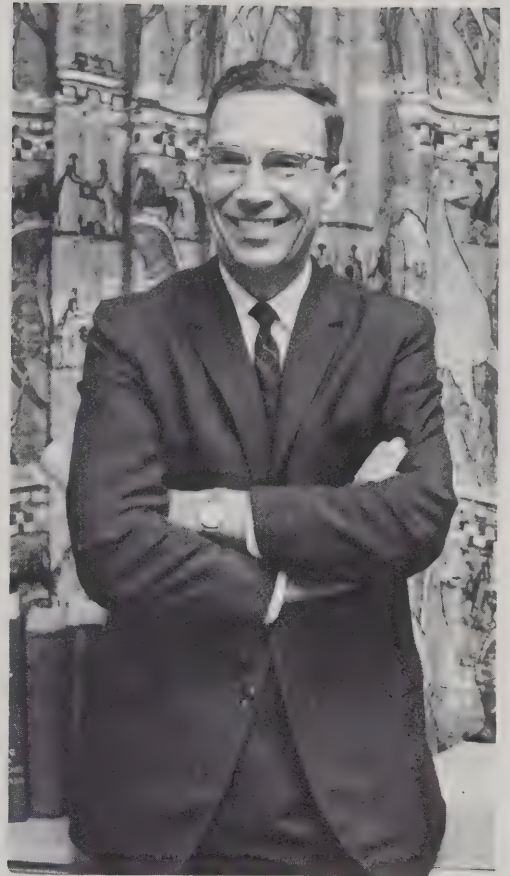

Growing pains, needs, financial problems, discipline matters — these all have had their places in his task. Decisions call for implementation and changes that there might be development — all in the life of a president.

As administrator he has been aware of the need for good rapport with the churches which help support the school, with the student body, and with school personnel.

On February 13, 1970, he submitted his resignation as president and closed an important chapter of his life, saying, "My own prayers and interest will ever be with The Cincinnati Bible Seminary."

ACTIVELY,

WE SHARE

For us learning does not end in the classroom as we share in learning by experience in many non-academic activities. Together we have laughed, cried, talked, planned, organized, and learned; but more important, we have grown closer to each other and to God. The spirit of any school ultimately depends on the relationship of its students to God in everything they do.

Revive Us Again!

The Spirit on campus this year was greatly enhanced by the weekly revival hours. This new devotional program resulted in a deeper unity among the students. Each group or organization was responsible each week for the program. Each week was new, exciting, and uplifting.

A New Spirit For A New Year

As the faculty and administration are escorted into the chapel, there is a quiet cloud that covers the auditorium. This is convocation. The calling together of students, old and new, faculty, and friends. It is a time of renewal and dedication. God's blessing is beseeched for the new year of learning and growth.

Parents Enjoy A Taste Of CBS

Informative ... Interesting ... Fun. These are the words to describe Parent's Day, 1969. This event is one of the most popular of the school year. Parents come from many different states to spend a day on the campus.

A — Mr. John Wilson explains one area of the school's activity; B — One gracious hostess at the afternoon reception was Mrs. Jordan; C — The parents enjoyed the noon lunch.

Evangelical Faith Expounded

Precise . . . Profound — Both descriptive of the impact resulting from the lectureship conducted by Dr. John Warwick Montgomery. An eminent historian, Dr. Montgomery divides his time and talents between the Trinity Evangelical Divinity School in Deerfield, Illinois, and the Faculté de Théologie Protestante de l'Université de Strausbourg. His scholastic achievements include seven earned degrees and twelve books.

Dr. Montgomery's main topic was the evangelical faith today. He developed this theme in a series of three lectures: "Its Basis and Validity," "Its Foremost Threat: the Philosophy of Process," and "Its Social Responsibility."

FERVENTLY,

WE COMPETE

Sports at CBS provide opportunities to grow and mature physically. Yet, physical building offers many by-products. Diligent practice, improvement of skills, and active competition teach perseverance, need for continual development and Christian sportsmanship. This year's participants sparked a growing interest in athletics and a closer school spirit among all students.

BRAVELY,

WE GO FORTH

GO ... LOVE ... SEARCH ... SEEK ... SAVE
LOST ... "UP WITH YOUTH" ... DOES ANYONE REALLY CARE???

The Seniors, as well as any, realize what lies ahead. The Spirit of this new era continues to challenge, issues a more difficult work, and finds necessity of a greater dependence upon the One who is our Strength. For four years we have been students, laborers, and leaders — challenged to spark a greater awareness of Spirit.

CHRIST CARES. SO, WE CARE. BY THY SPIRIT ARE WE LED.

Tribute To A Christian Brother

Jack Hendrix-Brumit, who would have been a graduate with the Class of 1970, was killed in an automobile accident in Grant County, Kentucky, on June 7, 1969. A native of Elizabethton, Tennessee, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Jack Brumit; and he planned to marry Eileen Mounts, a Seminary student.

Following high school he entered CBS to prepare for the ministry. His witness was felt both on campus and in the ministries that he held. An active member of the Ambassadors, he served as president his junior year. Following his first love, Jack "preached the word" in ministries at Amelia, Ohio, and Elizabeth Christian Church at Stringtown, Kentucky.

While his witness is gone, it contributed to our lives and witnesses, strengthening them for service. We miss him now, but some day we shall meet our brother in Christ where death cannot separate.

Only A Senior Knows . . .

How funny underclassmen really are.

Those famous last words: "Twelve hours will be a snap my last semester!"

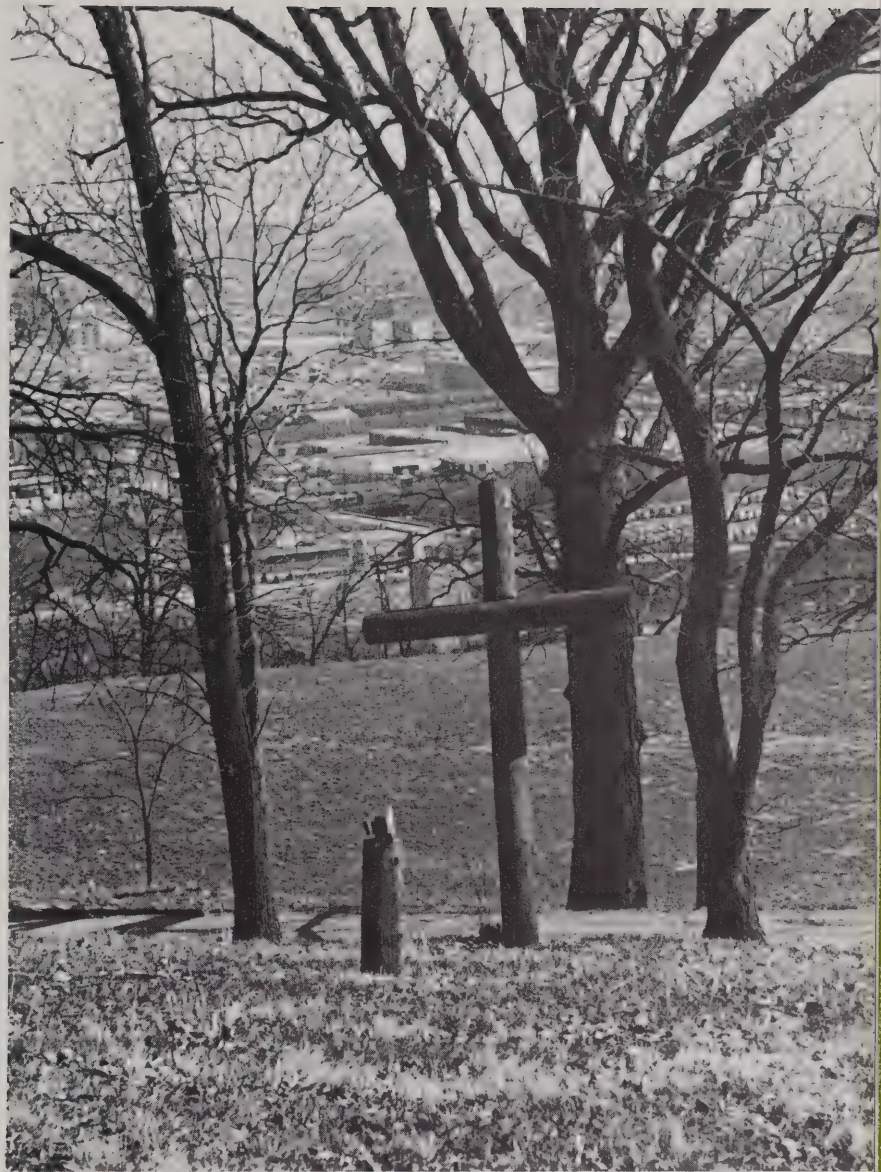

That senioritis is to spring fever as double pneumonia is to a cold.

The feeling of wearing a black cap and gown and being twenty feet tall.

The thrill of seeing revival among students this year.

That last quiet glance at the "home on the hill."

That no matter how long they counted the days, they were sure to take a clean handkerchief to commencement.

Climactic Countdown

The changing of the tassel . . . and suddenly, it is over. These people, and all they have stood for . . . This school, and all it means to us . . . The future, and all that it holds . . . This moment, and all that it symbolizes . . . It symbolizes hours of seemingly endless study. It means times of growth, growth in the classroom, growth in the dormitory, growth on the basketball floor. It represents the last stage of countdown, countdown to the "battlefield" of living the Christian life in total commitment to Him whose name we wear. It symbolizes days filled to the brim with activity that culminate in those final "senior days," those days long-awaited, but somehow, too quickly gone. Senior night traditionally kicks off this "week" followed by the junior-senior breakfast, baccalaureate, the alumni breakfast, and finally, commencement. Yet, it is not important to look back, but to reach out to the future. Reaching out is an awesome task in this day: the challenges are great, the temptations great, and the path of those before us as Christians was difficult. But, by the power of God and His power alone, we can accomplish each task He grants to us.

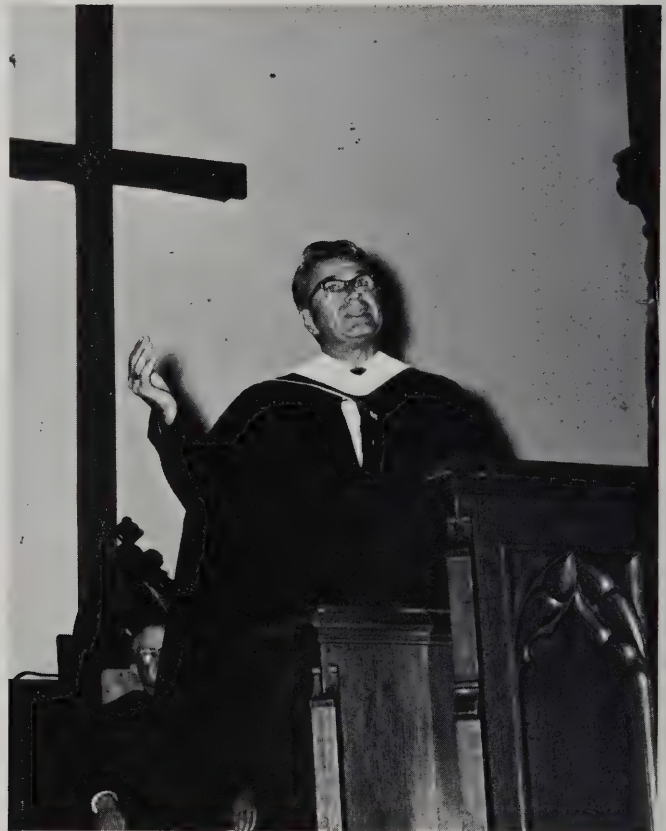

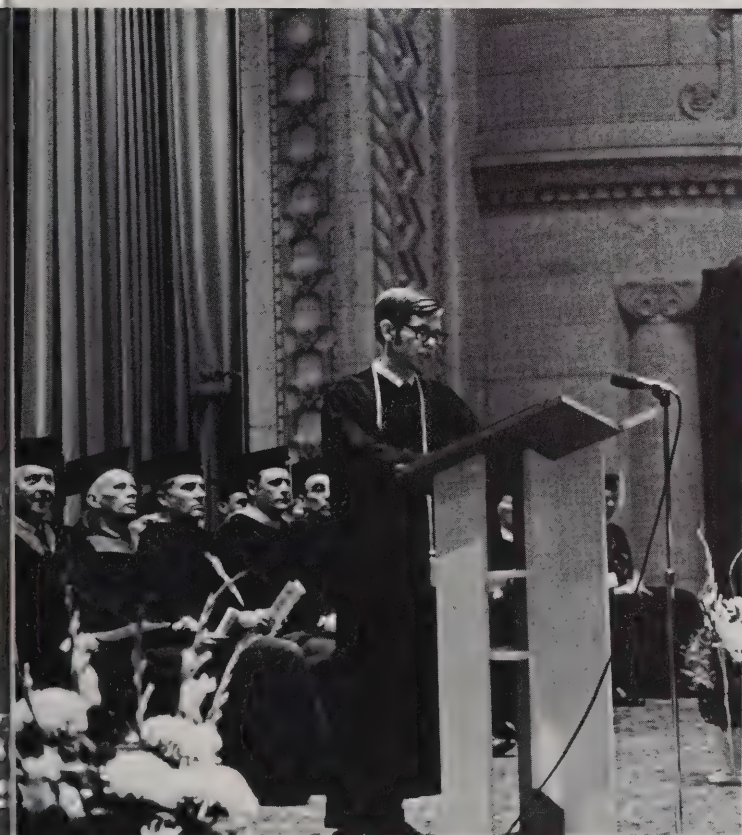

As the class of 1970 leaves the familiar faces and surroundings to face their unknown futures in Christian service, Baccalaureate speaker Coleman T. Sparrow emphasizes "The Business of Being Involved."

"Be Actively Involved"

*"Be Thou
Faithful,
Diligent,
Compassionate*

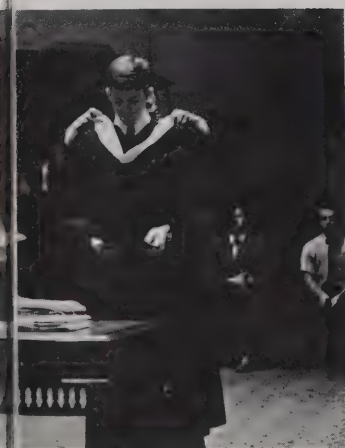

Cheryl Boggs, valedictorian: "Be Thou Compassionate"
William Custer, salutatorian: "Be Thou Faithful"
Andrew Paris, class orator: "Be Thou Diligent"

God's Man, Our Sponsor

"Man's 'Everybody else does it' never overrules God's 'Thou shalt not.' " That statement, made by our class sponsor, Willard W. Winter in 1947, has personified his teaching and example throughout our four years of study.

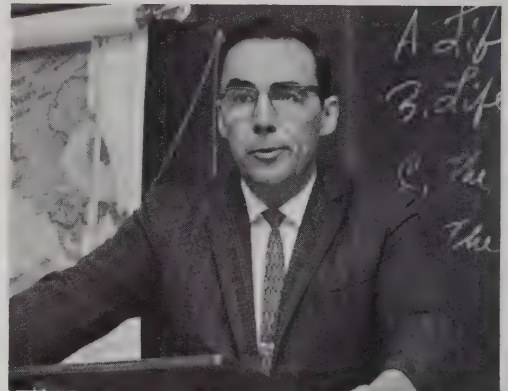

As husband and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Winter have built a Christian home. They have two children, Randy, who is in the armed forces, and Cheryl, a 1970 graduate of Ohio State University. Mrs. Winter is an active part of the Seminary family, serving as head of the secretarial pool.

As teacher, Mr. Winter became a member of the faculty in 1946. Since then, he has been active as adviser to World Missions Volunteers from 1952-67. He was appointed Academic Dean in 1966, and participated in archaeological digs in the ancient site of Ai in 1968-69. He also participated in mission internships to Jamaica in 1963 and Barbados in 1964. Mr. Winter has written a book on I and II Samuel (1967), and a commentary on Joshua, Judges, and Ruth (1969).

To a man who is never too busy to help, guide, teach, and counsel, we say "Thank You!"

FOR WISDOM

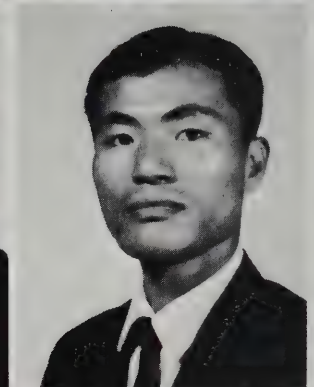

THEY REMAIN

With the increasing complexity and specialization of modern society, the need for more and more education is evident. Preparation for Christian service is no exception. The Graduate School is meeting these demands with improved facilities and a broader curriculum including such degree programs as church music and Christian journalism. Yet, knowledge is not the ultimate goal, for these strive for wisdom, that they might "find favor and good understanding in the sight of God and man" (Proverbs 3:4).

A Dean With Vision Builds A Growing

A — It takes a man of vision to build a graduate school; and in his years as Dean, Lewis Foster has had the vision to pray and to build a program to better equip students to go and to teach all nations. As Dean he has seen many of his hopes realized; B — New doorways have opened to improved teaching facilities; C — To greater opportunities through conferences and colloquiums; and D — To more effective learning with a more extensive curriculum and degree program that ever before.

Scholars At Work

From December 31 to January 6, the committee working on "A Contemporary Translation" of the Bible met at the Seminary. This group of scholars, including Dean Lewis Foster, is in the process of translating the Bible into the modern idiom. They have already completed and published the Gospel of John. The goal of the committee is an accurate translation in modern English because many people today only understand the English of current conversation and literature. We consider it an honor that Dr. Foster is sharing in this work of spreading the gospel in a more effective way.

Dr. Samuel Schultz of Wheaton Graduate School lectured in one of the sessions.

Theological Society Meets

The Cincinnati Bible Seminary hosted the December 29-31 gathering of the Evangelical Theological Society this year. Originating in Cincinnati in 1949, these Bible-believing scholars have met at least once a year since that time for intellectual stimulus, spiritual theological research. These meetings feature reading of prepared papers, addresses, and panel discussions. Different viewpoints are shared through formal sessions, informal discussions, and fellowship at meals and devotional periods.

Jim Smith, assisted by Jack Cottrell, takes pleasure in registering James Strauss, Lincoln Christian College, and John Cachiaras, Minnesota Bible College.

NOW, A WORD

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

FROM OUR SPONSORS

Each year the publication of the Nautilus is made possible by its "sponsors," the advertisers. These businesses and churches express interest in the Seminary and its students by contributing in this way. Some of these advertisers also express their interest by serving students as we reside in the Price Hill area. Many of these churches have helped to build not only the Class of 1970, but also many other servants of Christ. The 1970 Nautilus is yours, compliments of these sponsors.

The Moscow Christian Church of Milroy, Indiana, sends best wishes to their own minister, Roger Williams, on his graduating from The Cincinnati Bible Seminary.

We pray that the Lord will use Roger in an effective way in His Service.

In Appreciation

Professor, Minister, Counselor, Field Chairman: All of these titles fit Mr. Friskney. But while working with him as adviser, the 1970 Nautilus staff, like many students, has come to appreciate him as a friend. His dedication to the Lord's work at C.B.S., his concern for individual students, his endless ambition, his devotion to his family, and his loving, cheerful disposition are all part of the example he is.

The yearbook is a product of teamwork, but it could never have been done without his patient, careful guidance. And so we express our gratitude for his guidance and example with an inadequate, but sincere "Thank You!"

Farewell . . . For Now

Professor Rupert Clinton Foster who passed away June 6, 1970, holds a special place in the hearts of the Seminary staff, students, and alumni because of his contribution to our lives. While his classroom teaching was invaluable, his greatest teaching was by example, for many things about Professor Foster were inspiring and challenging: his sparkling sense of humor . . . his understanding concern . . . his acute awareness of the world around him . . . his unending dedication to the teaching of Jesus Christ . . . his daily walk with God. But one indelible trait, the courage of his conviction, will always be remembered. President-elect Harvey Bream expressed the impact of his courage at the 1969 Conference on Evangelism in presenting a gift to the Fosters from the Class of 1944, which Professor Foster sponsored, when he said "You may not always agree with him, but you are always certain where he stands." We are truly grateful that God granted us the privilege of knowing him, for truly he was a great teacher, but his life was an even greater lesson to all who knew him.

2 Timothy 4:7,8

Afterword

The spirit for the 70's, a new, eager, vitally-living spirit began this year. Yet, to enter a new age requires a period of transition. In many ways it was a year of transition: transition in faculty and administration, transition in the physical facilities of the classroom building, the administration building, and the coach house, and transition to new, far-reaching areas of service. In other ways the new spirit was found in new and different expressions of the timeless message of Jesus. For Christ's love and teachings expressed and fulfilled on the cross stand alone as the ever constant eternal light in our world. Our task as Christians preparing for His service by sharing this new spirit and entering new doors of opportunity is to keep our eyes constantly focused on the love of Jesus.
